

Survey, Boundaries, Access & Easements

A practical document checklist for showing where the property is, how it is reached, and what rights cross it.

THE SHORT ANSWER

A fence, appraisal-district map, or old sketch may not show the legal boundary.

01 SURVEY + DESCRIPTION

- ☐ Most recent survey or plat, including its date and surveyor
- ☐ Deed, legal description, field notes, and recorded plat references
- ☐ Any acreage, road, fence, or improvement changes since the survey

02 BOUNDARIES

- ☐ Known corners, monuments, fence lines, and cross-fences
- ☐ Buildings, roads, ponds, or utilities near or across a line
- ☐ Neighbor agreements, questions, encroachments, or disputes

03 ACCESS + EASEMENTS

- ☐ Public road frontage or recorded private access
- ☐ Shared-road, gate, cattle-guard, or maintenance agreements
- ☐ Utility, pipeline, drainage, conservation, or other easements
- ☐ Keys, combinations, crossings, and seasonal access concerns

SEND J4LP WHAT YOU HAVE

Survey or plat • deed and title commitment • easement documents • road or access agreements • map pins and photos. We will flag the open questions. A registered surveyor, title company, or attorney should resolve boundary and legal-right questions.

YOUR NEXT FOUR MOVES

- 1 Collect the latest documents
- 2 Mark known questions on a map
- 3 Photograph access and boundary concerns
- 4 Let J4LP organize the next calls
